

Directions to the Rocky Hock Playhouse:

NOTE: The new bypass on Hwy 17 that goes around Washington was opened the end of March. Thousands of pieces of literature we have published over the past year are now inaccurate. We apologize for the inconvenience this will cause. All new literature will be corrected. Please note that as of April 1, 2010 the following directions are correct. Those coming from the east or west on Hwy 264 will not be affected by previously published directions.

Patrons have reported when using their GPS (or internet source maps) that directions guide them to the theatre using 8th Street. This is not a problem if you are in a car. However, if you are in a van or coach and wish to unload at curbside, it is necessary to approach the theatre using 7th Street.
